Self-Orientalization in South East Europe Plamen K. Georgiev, 2012-06-15 The collapse of communist systems in South East Europe resulted in a landscape to be newly arranged Diverse forces compete to capture the popular energies released by the embrace of old and new identities Deficits of modernization in a post communist nexus have deepened cultural asymmetries and challenge EU integration in new ways Drives to rule of the strong hand feed like patron client relations self orientalization as result of dilettante social engineering and unrealistic cultural politics increase the entropy of transition Plamen K Georgiev discusses the most controversial issues of a possible accession of Turkey into EU and its impact on a number of collective identities as Bulgaria Macedonia Romania Croatia vulnerable to Islamic fundamentalism but also new breeds of nationalisms This comparative study prompts apt ideas for EU coordinated national politics fostering its cultural homogeneity and integrity in a global world of rising risks and new responsibilities

Edward Said Bill Ashcroft, D. Pal S. Ahluwalia, 2001 Edward Said is perhaps best known as the author of Orientalism 1978 a book which changed the face of critical theory and shaped the emerging field of post colonial studies He is also widely known for his controversial journalism on the Palestinian political situation This volume explains Said's key ideas their contexts and impact with reference to both his scholarship and journalism These ideas include the place of text and critic in the world knowledge power and the construction of the Other the links between culture and imperialism exile identity and the plight of Palestine First published in 1999 this book has been fully updated and revised for the reader new to Said's work The result is the ideal guide to one of today's most engaging critical thinkers Orientalism and Literature Geoffrey P. Nash, 2019-11-14 Orientalism and Literature discusses a key critical concept in literary studies and how it assists our reading of literature It reviews the concept's evolution how it has been explored imagined and narrated in literature Part I considers Orientalism's origins and its geographical and multidisciplinary scope then considers the major genres and trends Orientalism inspired in the literary critical field such as the eighteenth century Oriental tale reading the Bible and Victorian Oriental fiction Part II recaptures specific aspects of Edward Said's Orientalism the multidisciplinary contexts and scholarly discussions it has inspired such as colonial discourse race resistance feminism and travel writing Part III deliberates upon recent and possible future applications of Orientalism probing its currency and effectiveness in the twenty first century the role it has played and continues to play in the operation of power and how in new forms neo Orientalism and Islamophobia it feeds into various genres from migrant writing to journalism

Critical Theory and Political Theology Paul S. Chung, 2019-05-02 This book deals with the aftermath of the enlightenment and its legacy in the political social and racial context It discusses the incomplete project of modernity in terms of social contract theory racial justice issues and political theology in the postcolonial context Hermeneutical realism and cultural linguistic inquiry become substantial features in elaborating postcolonial political theology and its ethical stance against the colonization of lifeworld and its pathologies A study of critical theory and political theology is of a reconstructive character in seeking to relocate critical theory and political ethics in the context of alternative modernities at the level of postcolonial theory

Encyclopedia of Social Theory Austin Harrington, Barbara L. Marshall, Hans-Peter Müller, 2006 The Encyclopedia of Social Theory contains over 500 entries varying from concise definitions of key terms and short biographies of key theorists to comprehensive surveys of leading concepts debates themes and schools The object of the Encyclopedia has been to give thorough coverage of the central topics in theoretical sociology as well as terms and concepts in the methodology and philosophy of social science Although 106 theorists are given entries the emphasis of the work is on the elucidation of ideas rather than intellectual biography The Encyclopedia covers the leading contemporary domains of debate on social theory and the classical legacies of social thinkers from the nineteenth and early twentieth centuries giving proper balance to both the European and North American traditions and to important new developments in the global self understanding of sociology Social theory has become one of the most vigorous specialisms of sociology in recent years This is in part due to the considerable overlaps of social theory with other disciplinary areas such as cultural and media studies anthropology and political theory and to the cross disciplinary nature of theoretical approaches such as feminism and psychoanalysis and new fields such as postcolonial studies The editors have therefore worked to produce in the Encyclopedia of Social Theory a first call reference for students and researchers across the social sciences and humanities with an interest in contemporary theory and the modern history of ideas The Encyclopedia has been authored by leading international specialists in the field under the direction of a well balanced editorial team It is comprehensively cross referenced and all larger entries carry bibliographies There is a full index

Perspectives on Method and Theory in the Study of Religion International Association for the History of Religions. Congress, 2000 This volume is the adjunct proceedings on methodology from the XVIIth Congress of the International Association for the History of Religions held in Mexico City in 1995 Taken together the essays present a thorough and coherent perspective on studying religion as an item of human culture      Remembering Lived Lives Michael Jimenez, 2017-03-31 Remembering Lived Lives is a religious historiography book that focuses on issues and theorists located primarily in Latin America. Instead of joining the chorus of contemporary European intellectuals like Slavoj Žižek who insist on a renewed Eurocentrism, this study challenges both historians and theologians to take seriously the work done by theorists located in what Enrique Dussel calls the underside of modernity. This is an interdisciplinary work that opens with Karl Barth's outline for historical theological study and closes with an analysis of the film The Mission. Written for both the history or theology instructor and student, it deals with subjects like church history, biography as theology, liberation theology as primary source material, photographs and historical movies.

Radical Skin, Moderate Masks Yassir Morsi, 2017-08-01 Radical Skin Moderate Masks explores a voice trapped by the War on Terror. How can a Muslim speak about politics? And in what tone can they argue? In today's climate, can they talk back without being defined as a moderate or radical? And what do the conditions put on their political choices reveal about liberalism and its deep and historical relationship with racism? This timely work looks at ongoing debates and how they call for Muslims to engage in a de-radicalisation of their voice and identities. The author takes his lessons from Fanon and uses them to make sense of his many readings of Said's Orientalism. He reflects on the personal and scholarly difficulty of writing this very book. An autoethnography follows. It shows rather than tells of the felt demand to use a pleasing Apollonian liberalism. This approved language, however, erases a Muslim's ability to talk about the Dionysian, more Asiatic parts of their faith and politics.

Pakistan's Nuclear Exclusion Sana Rahim, 2024 Developed over six chapters, Pakistan's Nuclear Exclusion provides an account of how orientalism is a lived experience of post-colonial racism, injustice and inequality amongst members of the nuclear community in Pakistan. The account is produced through interviews with members of the community consisting of students, academics and physicists in Pakistan. Rahim offers unique insights into how Pakistan's nuclear community is not only perceived and represented but also how it seeks to operate in a wider nuclear community dominated by Western nuclear powers. The provision of such highly contextualised insights is enabled by the book setting out to both provide analytical space for and give voice to how orientalism is experienced in the everyday of their lives. Consequently, the work provides:

1. an analysis of how dominant discourses of nuclear management and their pictures of reason are exclusionary;
2. an analysis of the core features of orientalism as they pertain to Pakistan's nuclear community; and
3. empirical findings which produce categories of the experience of orientalism into areas of the everyday exclusion making a career Islamophobia, technology denial and self-reliance.

Pakistan's Nuclear Exclusion is enormously valuable to the research community as well as extremely well conceived and researched. In addition, much of the methodology chapter offers a level of sophistication and self-reflection that translates well in the interview material and its subsequent analysis.

Overcoming Tradition And Modernity Robert D. Lee, 2018-02-12 Authenticity has begun to rival development as a key to understanding the political aspirations of the Islamic world. Almost everywhere, modernity has laid waste to tradition, those habits and practices deemed to be timeless and true Imperialism carried European notions of progress into Muslim dominated parts of the globe and subsequently Muslims themselves espoused Western practices techniques and philosophies Regimes calling themselves liberal socialist and Arab nationalist all embraced modernity as their principal objective Most of these regimes failed to create the promised better lives their citizens desired Moreover ordinary Muslims felt despair as modernity ripped apart families exposed youngsters to the materialism and hedonism of Western entertainments heightened social expectations and undermined religious belief Even though tradition has proved itself incapable of staving off modernity the promises and premises of modern development literature have been called into question Where is the truth around which Muslims can rally Does modernity require a rejection of tradition Does the embrace of Islamic ideas necessitate turning away from modernity Robert D Lee explores these compelling questions by presenting four contemporary Muslim writers Muhammad Iqbal Sayyid Qutb Ali Shari ati and Mohammed Arkoun all of whom have refused to bow to such a dichotomy of modernity and tradition This study examines their efforts deeply influenced by European thinking to find a truth beyond tradition and modernity an authentic understanding of Islam upon which Muslims can build a future All four thinkers believe such an authentic understanding can serve as the foundation for a new politics Lee argues however that each of these versions of authenticity suffers shortcomings and falters in its efforts to move from the particularity of culture onto a grander scale of political organization appropriate for the modern world

Arab Brazil Wail S. Hassan, 2024 Until recently Arab Brazilian relations have been largely invisible to area studies and Comparative Literature scholarship Yet Arabs have left a permanent imprint on Brazil from the Moorish legacy of Muslim Iberia transmitted by Portuguese settlers to waves of Arab immigrants since the late nineteenth century to the prominence today of Brazilians of Arab descent in politics the economy literature and culture The first book of its kind Arab Brazil Fictions of Tertiary Orientalism argues that representations of Arab and Muslim immigrants in Brazilian literature and popular culture since the early twentieth century reveal anxieties and contradictions in the country's ideologies of national identity Author Wail S Hassan analyzes those representations in a century of Brazilian novels short stories and telenovelas to show how the Arab East works paradoxically as a site of otherness different language culture and religion and solidarity cultural historical demographic and geopolitical ties What explains this contradiction argues Hassan is a Brazilian variety of Orientalism distinct from the British French and U S varieties analyzed by Edward Said that problematizes the idealized image of Brazil as a country built on mistura ethnic and racial mixing and cultural anthropophagy or the digestion and incorporation of diverse cultural influences

Toward New Democratic Imaginaries - Istanbul Seminars on Islam, Culture and Politics Seyla Benhabib, Volker Kaul, 2016-09-23 This volume combines rigorous empirical and theoretical analyses with political engagement to look beyond reductive short hands that ignore the historical evolution and varieties of Islamic doctrine and that deny the complexities of Muslim societies encounters with modernity itself Are Islam and democracy compatible Can we shed the language of Islam vs the West for new political imaginaries The authors analyze struggles over political legitimacy since the Arab Spring and the rise of Al Qaeda and ISIS in their historical and political complexity across the MENA Middle East and North Africa region Distinguishing multiculturalism from interculturalism and understanding multiple modernities philosophers in the volume tease out the complexities of civilizational encounters The volume also shows how the Paris massacres or the Danish caricature controversy do not remain confined to Europe but influence struggles and confrontations within Muslim societies Gender and Islam are addressed from a comparative perspective bringing into conversation not only the experience of different Muslim countries with Islamic law but also by analysing Jewish family law

Mexican Literature in Theory Ignacio M. S  nchez Prado, 2018-01-25 Mexican Literature in Theory is the first book in any language to engage post independence Mexican literature from the perspective of current debates in literary and cultural theory It brings together scholars whose work is defined both by their innovations in the study of Mexican literature and by the theoretical sophistication of their scholarship Mexican Literature in Theory provides the reader with two contributions First it is one of the most complete accounts of Mexican literature available covering both canonical texts as well as the most important works in contemporary production Second each one of the essays is in itself an important contribution to the elucidation of specific texts Scholars and students in fields such as Latin American studies comparative literature and literary theory will find in this book compelling readings of literature from a theoretical perspective methodological suggestions as to how to use current theory in the study of literature and important debates and revisions of major theoretical works through the lens of Mexican literary works

Antimodernism and Artistic Experience Lynda Lee Jessup, 2001-12-15 Antimodernism is a term used to describe the international reaction to the onslaught of the modern world that swept across industrialized Western Europe North America and Japan in the decades around the turn of the twentieth century Scholars in art history anthropology political science history and feminist media studies explore antimodernism as an artistic response to a perceived sense of loss in particular the loss of authentic experience Embracing the authentic as a redemptive antidote to the threat of unheralded economic and social change antimodernism sought out experience supposedly embodied in pre industrialized societies in medieval communities or oriental cultures in the Primitive the Traditional or Folk In describing the ways in which modern artists used antimodern constructs in formulating their work the contributors examine the involvement of artists and intellectuals in the reproduction and diffusion of these concepts In doing so they reveal the interrelation of fine art decorative art souvenir or tourist art and craft questioning the ways in which these categories of artistic expression reformulate and naturalise social relations in the field of cultural production

Searching for Japan Michele Monserrati, 2020 This book pursues the specific case of Italian travel narratives in the Far East through a focus on the experience of Japan in works by writers who visited the Land of the Rising Sun beginning in the Meiji period 1868 1912 and during the concomitant opening of Japan s relations with the West Drawing from the fields of Postcolonial and Transnational Studies analysis of these texts explores one central question what does it mean to imagine Japanese culture as contributing to Italian culture Each author shares in common an attempt to disrupt ideas about dichotomies and unbalanced power relationships between East and West Proposing the notion of relational Orientalism this book suggests that Italian travelogues to Japan in many cases pursued the goal of building imaginary transnational communities predicated on commonalities and integration by claiming what they perceived as Oriental as their own In contrast with a long history of Western representations of Japan as inferior and irrational Searching for Japan identifies a positive overarching attitude toward the Far East country in modern Italian culture Expanding the horizon of Italian transnational networks normally situated within the Southern European region this book reinstates the existence of an alternative Euro Asian axis operating across Italian history
