Directions & Prompt Example

4th Grade Expository

Analytical Expository Mode

There is 1 section.

There is 1 total question.

You will have 30 minutes to complete the test.

Directions

This is a writing test. You will have thirty minutes to write an essay in English. Before you begin to write, read the prompt and take a few minutes to think about and plan your essay.

As you write your essay, remember to:

- Explain the topic of your essay
- Develop your essay with specific details and explain your ideas.
- Use the entire thirty minutes to write your essay
- Read what you have written to be sure it says what you want it to say.

Write your final essay in the answer space provided on the computer screen.

You may use scratch paper to plan your essay. You may change your essay on the computer screen as much as you want to, but click the "submit" button only when you have completed your essay.

Prompt Example

You are going to write an essay to explain the qualities of a good friend.

Think about your best friend. Think about what makes this person a good friend.

Here are some questions to help you think about your essay and plan it.

- Who is this person, and what do you like to do together?
- Why is this friend important to you?
- What makes this person your best friend? Why someone else?
- What kinds of things do all good friends have in common?

Now, write an essay in which you describe your best friend and explain the qualities of a good friend. Be sure to include reasons and details that help your reader understand what makes this person a good friend and what qualities all good friends have.

Close Writing Paula Bourque, 2023-10-10 How closely do your students read their writing What are the implications for those who do and those who don't During her work in classrooms literacy coach Paula Bourque noticed that students who read their own writing closely are engaged in their work write fluently are able to produce lengthy drafts and incorporate teaching points from mini lessons into the day's writing In this comprehensive book Paula shows you that no matter what structures or lessons you use in your writing classroom the strategies in Close Writing will help you make these better by creating student writers who are more aware of what effective writing looks like who care about what they write and who take ownership and responsibility for their growth as writers Paula argues that a key element in close writing is learning to look and looking to learn by closely reading our own writing Instead of focusing on the mechanics of their writing

she encourages students to read their words for understanding clarity and the effect they will have on an audience She urges them to recognize their habits and their approaches to writing and to build upon them Close Writing is based on research and methods that are reliable and valid best practices but it will not prescribe lessons or structures It gives you a peek inside classrooms where teachers just like you are working with budding authors just like yours Paula also provides considerations for ELL writers as well as a section of interviews with authors She shares an extensive reference resource guide and a companion website with students work samples reproducibles and templates and videos of classroom writing lessons round out this must have resource Teaching Literacy in the Visible Learning Classroom, Grades 6-12 Douglas teachers to get parents involved in their children's education and to promote math learning outside of the classroom. In this practical book you'll find step by step guidelines and activities to help you bring Family Math Nights to life. The enhanced second edition is aligned with the Common Core State Standards for Mathematical Content and Practice with new activities to help students explain their answers and write about math. It also comes with ready to use handouts that you can distribute during your event. With the resources in this book you'll have everything you need to help students learn essential math concepts including ratios and proportional relationships, the number system, expressions and equations, geometry, and statistics and probability in a fun and supportive environment.

Special Features: The book is organized by math content so you can quickly find activities that meet your needs. Each activity is easy to implement and includes a page of instructions educators can use to prepare the station as well as a page for families that explains the activity and can be photocopied and displayed at the station. All of the family activities can be photocopied or downloaded from our website www.routledge.com/9781138200999 so that you can distribute them during your event.

Focus on Fluency Nancy Cecil, 2017-05-12 This valuable book is written for preservice and inservice teachers who are searching for best practices with which to promote fluency in reading and writing. Fluency is one of the primary building blocks for creating successful readers and writers, and the practical discussions and activities found here will help teachers develop effective ways to promote fluency and to engage and motivate children while always remembering that the essential purpose of reading is to gain meaning from text and that of writing is to convey meaning through text.

Critical Encounters in Secondary English Deborah Appleman, 2015-04-28 Because of the emphasis placed on nonfiction and informational texts by the Common Core State Standards, literature teachers all over the country are re-evaluating their curriculum and looking for thoughtful ways to incorporate nonfiction into their courses. They are also rethinking their pedagogy as they consider ways to approach texts that are outside the usual fare of secondary literature classrooms. The Third Edition of Critical Encounters in Secondary English provides an integrated approach to incorporating nonfiction and informational texts into the literature classroom. Grounded in solid theory with new field-tested classroom activities, this new edition shows teachers how to adapt practices that have always defined good pedagogy to the new generation of standards for literature instruction. New for the Third Edition: A new preface and new introduction that discusses the CCSS and their implications for literature instruction. Lists of nonfiction texts at the end of each chapter related to the critical lens described in that chapter. A new chapter on new historicism, a critical lens uniquely suited to interpreting nonfiction and informational sources. New classroom activities created and field-tested specifically for use with nonfiction texts. Additional activities that demonstrate how informational texts can be used in conjunction with traditional literary texts. What a smart and useful book!

Mike Rose, University of California, Los Angeles. This book has enriched my understanding both of teaching literature and of how I read. I know of no other book quite like it Michael W Smith Temple University College of Education I have recommended Critical Encounters to every group of preservice and practicing teachers that I have taught or worked with and I will continue to do so Ernest Morrell director of the Institute for Urban and Minority Education IUME Teachers College Columbia University
